

How can my organisation contribute in-kind to an IHI project?

Eligible in-kind contributions under IHI can only be provided by entities which are affiliated either to one of the founding associations of IHI or their affiliated national associations, or via a specific application to become a Contributing Partner. However, there is only a limited budget available for Contributing Partners, and the rationale for an organisation to apply as such needs to be approved via the IHI Governing Board (IHI GB).

Your in-kind contribution as ‘private member’ via industry affiliation is eligible if you are:

- A direct member, or an affiliate of a direct member, of at least one of the founding associations of IHI, check here: COCIR, EFPIA, EuropaBio, MedTech Europe or Vaccines Europe
- A direct member, or an affiliate of a direct member, of one of the national associations listed here.

If this is not your case you may consider applying for standard membership (links above), or for specific membership:

- EFPIA Partner in Research Membership, or EFPIA SME membership,
- MedTech Europe Partner in Research,
- COCIR Associate Membership.

These specific options allow your organisation to contribute in-kind to any IHI project, via in-kind contributions to operational activities (IKOP) and in-kind contributions to additional activities (IKAA), like any of the existing industry associations’ members.
